A learning license is mandatory before a Permanent License

You must have understood by now that the first step to getting a Driving License in India is receiving a Learner's License. For the test, you need to be acquainted with the roads and traffic signals and regulations to get a Learning License. This test assesses your understanding and knowledge about the various traffic rules of the road in India. And after you pass the online Learner's License test, the license will be given to you that. Therefore, after getting a Learner's License, you will be allowed to practise driving on the public roads. One very important point to note for you is that you as a learner has to be accompanied mandatorily by any permanent driving license holder.

Every state and regions in India have its own RTO or RTA office in all primary cities from where a person can obtain the Learner's License. Many state RTOs have their own online portal where online learning license can easily be applied for. The required online learning license forms are accessible with mock Learner's License exam as well so that you as a candidate for giving Learners License test can do a practise before you actually give the test.

What is the process of a Learners License test in India?

Now let us take you through the process of Learners License test.

You will have to appear for an online test if the online learning licence application is made or you can appear for written test as well. Some key aspects to note here as below:

1. You need to be present at the venue half an hour before the test
2. Many RTOs usually give printed information covering points like traffic signals, traffic rules etc for your reference
3. You need to pay the required fee (table is given below for you to refer) for the test
4. If you pass, you will be given the learner's license there itself
5. If you are unable to pass the test, you will be allowed to retake the test after a week
6. You will be allowed to apply for a Driving License 30 days post the date of issue of the Learner's License.

How many questions are asked in the Learner License Test?

A total of 15 multiple choice questions is asked in the Learner license test. Out of the 15 questions, you need to give the correct answer for at least nine questions to pass the learning license test successfully. You are given 30 seconds for each question to pick the right answer over the four choices available. The questions asked are based on traffic rules and regulations.

How to apply for a learning license (II) online?

If you want a driving license, you must get a learning license first. You will have to take a test to get it. You can apply for the test online as well as through offline mediums. Now let us see how you can apply for your learning license online. Here are some simple steps that you have to follow:

1. Visit the official website of the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways <https://parivahan.gov.in/>
2. On the home page, you will find “online services” option, select “Driving license-related services” from the drop-down menu.
3. Select “Apply for learner driving license”.
4. Fill in the form carefully, once done, hit “Submit”.
5. Upload the requested scanned copies of documents.
6. Pay the application fees by selecting the payment gateway of choice.
7. Book the online slot for the test.
8. To take the test, you’ll need to visit the RTO center on the scheduled date.
9. If you clear the test, your learning license will be sent to your address..
10. If you don’t clear the test, you can reapply for the test after a week.

Documents required to apply for learning license online

The documents required for both offline and online learning license tests are the same. In the case of online applications, you’ll need scanned copies of the documents. To apply you’ll need to upload the documents through the official website. The following documents are necessary to apply for the learning licence test:

1. Age proof (one of the documents listed below)
  - Birth certificate
  - Passport
  - Pan card
2. Address proof (one of the documents listed below)
  - Electricity bill or telephone bill
  - Ration card

Rules and Guidelines for Attempting Driving Licence Test

You should know a few things before taking the licence test:

- Be prepared, know the basics of driving and road signs before appearing for your test
- Practice through mock tests
- Arrive at the RTO centre half an hour before the test
- Carry all the necessary documents with you to the test centre

There is a piece of good news for you, if you don't want to go to the RTO office for giving the test. You can take the learner's licence test from home, no need to go to the RTO. Many state governments have implemented this option, including Maharashtra and Delhi. The procedure for application would be the same. The only thing out of the list would be going out to take the test.
